1 Introduction

1.1 Background on SNOMED CT

SNOMED CT terminology provides a common language that enables a consistent way of indexing, storing, retrieving, and aggregating clinical data across specialties and sites of care.

SNOMED International maintains the SNOMED CT technical design, the content architecture, the SNOMED CT content (includes the concepts table, the descriptions table, the relationships table, a history table, and ICD mappings), and related technical documentation.

1.2 Access to the Common French Translation

This version of the common French translation of SNOMED CT has an effective time of 20220331. It is based on version 20220228 of SNOMED CT international edition.

At this point, the common French translation of SNOMED CT is not distributed by SNOMED International. It may be published as part of a national edition of any of the Members involved in the production of this translation (listed on the cover page).

The common French translation is accessible in SNOMED International Browser at this address: <https://community-browser.ihtsdotools.org/>

The release content is part of the March 31, 2022 Canadian edition of SNOMED CT. The French translation (Canadian and international) is viewable in the SNOMED International Browser.

The release content is also viewable in the French SNOMED CT browser named "Visionneuse SNOMED CT" made accessible to French speakers by the Affiliate Phast at <http://visionneuseciocct.phast.fr/>. ## 2 Content Development Activity

2.1 Editorial Guidelines Updated

The Editorial Guideline for French translation has been complemented. The new version 2.3 of this document is available here:

2.2 Intended Usage of the French translation in French Speaking Territories

The intent is to provide a common French translation with as many synonyms as requested by each francophone territory, to accommodate the dialectal variations across the francophone space. For each translated concept, there is a default French synonym defined as the preferred term at the global level. Then, each national territory inherits the whole set of French synonyms and may modulate the language preferences for its own space, swapping the preferred term with another acceptable synonym, or excluding some synonyms deemed as not acceptable for this territory.

2.3 Activities Conducted to Produce Version 20220331

The French Translation Project Group has prepared this version between October 1st 2021 and March 15th 2022. Activities performed during this period have encompassed:

- Integration of 1300 concepts from the Belgium translation
- 181 descriptions changed by Canada
- 69 new concepts translated by Canada
